

Recent Posts

- Take a look at this Cleavage
- Need a reason to go to Gillette Stadium? Try the IPA
- A beautiful day at Harvest Fest
- Barefeet and bubbly
- No wine-ing during political season? Yes, there is

Recent Comments

- Susan on Green with envy
- Krissy on "Life, liberty and the pursuit of hoppiness"
- Dwight on A good bar
- Deidre on A good bar
- Alcohol Posts » A good bar on A good bar

Archives

- October 2008 (6)
- September 2008 (4)
- August 2008 (2)
- July 2008 (3)
- June 2008 (6)
- May 2008 (3)
- April 2008 (8)
- March 2008 (12)
- February 2008 (1)

Categories

- Beer (11)
- Liquor (2)
- News (4)
- Uncategorized (25)
- Wine (8)

The drinking age is 21. Please drink responsibly.

« Need a reason to go to Gillette Stadium? Try the IPA

Take a look at this Cleavage

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, so drink up!

Almost every major company these days seems to have a line that donates proceeds toward the fight against breast cancer. Here's another that's joined in:

Cleavage Creek Cellars is run by a California man, Budge Brown, who lost his wife of 48 years to breast cancer in 2005. He's taken his anger and turned it into a line of wines, and he donates 10% of the sales toward research.

The line is now in its second year, with the second set having just been introduced this month. The new wines include a 2006 Reserve Napa Cabernet Sauvignon, a 2006 Reserve Napa Petite Sirah and a 2006 Reserve Cabernet-Sirah, as well as a 2006 Secret Red and a 2007 Secret White.

Each bottle of Cleavage Creek wine honors a breast-cancer survivor with a picture on the label. You can find their stories on the Cleavage Creek Web site.

To date, Cleavage Creek has donated more than $37,000 to research. Know of any other wines or drinks that help out a good cause? Please share!

Tags: charity, Wine

Photos of breast-cancer survivors adorn Cleavage Creek wine bottles. What a great idea!

This entry was posted on Thursday, October 23rd, 2008 at 5:21 pm and is filed under News, Wine. You can follow any responses to this entry through the RSS 2.0 feed. You can leave a response, or trackback from your own site.

Add New Comment

blog comments powered by Disqus

About the bloggers

- * News editor Vanessa Palange will try anything once and most more than once. There are very few items on her do-not-drink list.
- * Copy editor and page designer Emily Reily enjoys a drink now and then and likes a nice bottle of Moet for special occasions.
- * Copy editor Jason Sparapani likes a good whiskey.
- * Community news editor Deb Cad likes microbrews, homebrewing and the occasional espresso martini.
- * Lifestyles editor Deidre Ashe thinks you can't go wrong when chocolate and alcohol are combined.

Telegraph Blogs

- Granite Geek
- Live Free or Dine
- The Editor's Blog
- Off Track
- Press Play
- After Hours
- Web Notes
- On Assignment
- The Mother of All Blogs
- The Pop Diner
- Fashion Cents
- Raising Athletes
- Savvy Shopper
- NH Prime Cuts
- Unveiled
- Nashua Telegraph Blogs
- Inside NH Preps

Contact The Telegraph

PO Box 1008, Nashua, NH 03061 (603) 594-6440

Privacy Policy and User Agreement

The Telegraph Online Ver. 2.5

© 2006, Telegraph Publishing Company
All Rights Reserved